Overview

This Quick Reference Guide covers sending a Terms and Conditions (T&C) agreement to a Salesforce account contact for signature. Customers must agree and sign off on a T&C for each product they purchase.

Before You Begin

- Determine if you need to send a T&C agreement: If the customer is sent a custom agreement, standard agreement or Insertion Order (I/O), the T&C for the products purchased are already included in those agreements. A separate T&C is not needed.
- Determine products purchased: If the customer is purchasing only rate card products and is not using an I/O, the customer must sign off on the T&C for each product they intend to purchase/have purchased.

Generating the T&C

Step 1: Start agreement on account

Open the Account Detail page in Salesforce for the account that will receive the agreement for signature. Click Send Agreement.

Step 4: Select the T&C products

Select the product(s) the customer has purchased or intends to purchase. At least one product must be selected. Click Next.

TIP

The Third Party Media product option refers to non-company advertising inventory sold as an agency on the customer's behalf through external media partners. Only a handful of markets sell these deals. They must be vetted by Finance/Legal.

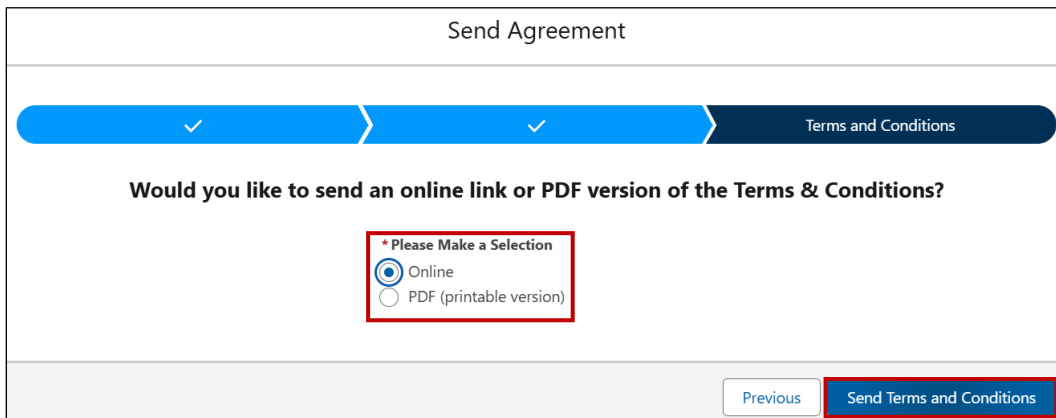

The screenshot shows the 'Send Agreement' screen with a progress bar indicating three steps: Step 1 (checked), Step 2 (checked), and Step 3 (Terms and Conditions). Below the progress bar, the instruction reads: 'Please select the Terms and Conditions you would like to send to the advertiser.' There are seven toggle switches for different advertising products: 'Print Advertising' (Active), 'Digital Display Advertising' (Inactive), 'Digital Marketing Services' (Active), 'Branded Content' (Inactive), 'PrePrint Advertising' (Inactive), 'Sponsorship' (Inactive), 'GetCreative Services' (Inactive), 'Other Advertising' (Inactive), and 'Third Party Media' (Inactive). The 'Print Advertising' and 'Digital Marketing Services' toggles are highlighted with red boxes. At the bottom right, there are 'Previous' and 'Next' buttons, with the 'Next' button highlighted with a red box.

Step 5: Choose Online or PDF

Choose whether to send the customer an online version of the T&C or a physical PDF copy. Some customers require a physical hard copy. Click Send Terms and Conditions.

The screenshot shows the 'Send Agreement' screen with a progress bar indicating three steps: Step 1 (checked), Step 2 (checked), and Step 3 (Terms and Conditions). Below the progress bar, the instruction reads: 'Would you like to send an online link or PDF version of the Terms & Conditions?'. There are two radio button options: 'Online' (selected) and 'PDF (printable version)'. The 'Online' option is highlighted with a red box. At the bottom right, there are 'Previous' and 'Send Terms and Conditions' buttons, with the 'Send Terms and Conditions' button highlighted with a red box.

Parts of the T&C

Advertising T&C/Addendums

The terms and conditions in the agreement apply to the specific products included in the contract. Addendums are added based on the products selected during the send process.

IMPORTANT

Ad processing fees are generally mentioned in Addendum A when print/digital display is included. However, the specific amounts are not included in contract pricing because discounts apply during billing. Discuss these fees UP FRONT in initial customer conversations or you may be taking a few dollars out of your own wallet for them!

Signature Area

The bottom of the contract shows signature lines for the advertising customer contact (Advertiser). If the advertising contact is associated with an agency, the contact should sign in the Agency area. The salesperson and his/her manager should sign in the Publisher Representative area.

Common Issues

The advertiser contact is trying to sign the T&C and cannot get past the Next arrow.	The advertiser contact must click on the General T&C link to read the agreement before signing.
The T&C stays at draft even after it is sent.	The salesperson sending the T&C should submit a ServiceDesk ticket to check that he/she has AdobeSign permissions.
The T&C needs to be edited once it is sent.	Existing/sent T&Cs cannot be edited. Follow the send process above to send a new one.
