Overview

This Quick Reference Guide covers sending Terms and Conditions (T&C) to a Salesforce account contact for signature. Customers must agree and sign off on Terms and Conditions for each product they purchase.

Before You Begin

- Determine if you need to send a Terms and Conditions agreement: If the customer is sent a custom agreement, standard agreement or I/O, the Terms and Conditions for the products purchased are already included in those agreements. A separate T&C is not needed.
- Determine products purchased: If the customer is purchasing only rate card products and is not using an I/O, the customer must sign off on the Terms and Conditions for each product they intend to purchase/have purchased.

Generating the Terms and Conditions

Step 1: Start agreement on account

Open the Account Detail page in Salesforce for the account that will receive the agreement for signature. Click Send Agreement.

Step 2: Select type of agreement

Select Terms and Conditions Only. Click Next.

Step 3: Select the signing contact

Select the account contact to sign the contract. This does not have to be the billing contact. It must be the person at the account responsible for signing contracts--the person with the quill pen. Click Next.

Full Name	Email	Contact Role
☒ Christine Perry	cperry@localiq.com	Marketing Contact
☐ Christopher Magness	cmagness@gannett.com	Marketing Contact

IMPORTANT

If the signing contact is not displayed as an existing contact on the account, you must create a new one. Use these steps below.

Step 3a: Use the new contact option

If the signer is a new contact, use the New Contact option. Click to turn on the slider.

Step 3b: Enter new contact details

Enter the contact's First Name, Last Name and Email Address. Select the Contract Role, then click Next.

First Name	Last Name	Contact Role	Email
Robert	Lobb	Billing	test@yahoo.com

Step 4: Select the Terms and Conditions products

Select the product(s) the customer has purchased or intends to purchase. At least one product must be selected.

TIP

Third Party Media refers to non-company advertising inventory sold as an agency on the customer's behalf through external media partners. Only a handful of markets sell these deals. They must be vetted by Finance/Legal.

The screenshot shows a 'Send Agreement' interface with a progress bar at the top. The progress bar has three segments: the first two are blue with white checkmarks, and the third is dark blue with the text 'Terms and Conditions'. Below the progress bar, the text reads 'Please select the Terms and Conditions you would like to send to the advertiser.' There are eight toggle switches arranged in two rows. The first row includes 'Print Advertising' (Active), 'Digital Display Advertising' (Inactive), 'Digital Marketing Services' (Active), and 'Branded Content' (Inactive). The second row includes 'PrePrint Advertising' (Inactive), 'Sponsorship' (Inactive), 'GetCreative Services' (Inactive), and 'Other Advertising' (Inactive). A 'Third Party Media' toggle switch is also present but is not clearly visible. At the bottom right, there are 'Previous' and 'Next' buttons.

Step 5: Choose Online or PDF

Choose whether to send the customer an online version of the Terms and Conditions or a physical PDF copy. Some customers require a physical hard copy. Click Send Terms and Conditions.

The screenshot shows a 'Send Agreement' interface with a progress bar at the top. The progress bar has three segments: the first two are blue with white checkmarks, and the third is dark blue with the text 'Terms and Conditions'. Below the progress bar, the text reads 'Would you like to send an online link or PDF version of the Terms & Conditions?'. There is a red asterisk followed by the text '* Please Make a Selection'. Below this, there are two radio buttons: 'Online' (selected) and 'PDF (printable version)'. At the bottom right, there are 'Previous' and 'Send Terms and Conditions' buttons.

Advertising Terms and Conditions/Addendums

The terms and conditions in the agreement apply to the specific products included in the contract. Addendums are added based on the products selected during the send process.

IMPORTANT

Ad processing fees are generally mentioned in Addendum A when print/digital display is included. However, the specific amounts are not included in contract pricing because discounts apply during billing. Discuss these fees UP FRONT in initial customer conversations or you may be taking a few dollars out of your own wallet for them!

Common Issues

The advertiser contact is trying to sign and cannot get past the Next arrow.	The advertiser contact must click on the General Terms and Conditions link to actually read the agreement before signing.
The contact stays at draft even after it is sent.	The salesperson sending the contact should submit a ServiceDesk ticket to check that he/she has AdobeSign permissions.
The contract needs to be edited once it is sent.	Existing/sent contacts cannot be edited. Follow the send process above to send a new one.
